

The Fight For Survival

Every minuite, more and more animals have to fight their way to the top of the food chain, only to be ruthlessly hunted by poachers. Life for animals such as tigers, pandas and snow leopards isn't a fuzzy, warm greeting card. Life is hard and that's why the WWF try to raise money for these endangered species of the animal kingdom. However, it is near on impossible to do so if we don't have YOUR help joining in. The WWF are depending on us to work as a team and save these stunning creatures. Do you really want your grandchildren growing up in a world with out tigers and cute, cuddly pandas? And what about the incredible, stunning snow leopard? The only time they would ever see them would be in information books. With just a small donation to the WWF, we could make the world a much better place in the future.
